CTPA - Getting the Best from Brexit: Impact, Solutions and Opportunities for the Cosmetics Sector

On 24 January, the Supreme Court released its conclusions pursuant to the appeal made on the Judgement of the High Court of Justice regarding the prerogative powers of the Secretary of State to give notice under Article 50 of the Treaty of the European Union (TEU).

The Supreme Court has dismissed the appeal made by the Secretary of State and reiterates that the UK government does not have power under its Crown's prerogative to give notice pursuant to Article 50 TEU. The Court has also ruled that the Government does not have an obligation to consult the devolved governments to trigger Article 50 of the TEU.

A further announcement from the Government with regard to the Supreme Court's verdict is expected. Meanwhile CTPA continues to work with the Government to ensure that, post-Brexit, our industry can continue to prosper.

We have been working extensively with our members to assess the main implications and we have developed an updated CTPA position paper - 'Getting the Best from Brexit'.

CTPA Webinar 31 January - The Implications of the UK Leaving the European Union from the Perspective of the Cosmetics Industry

CTPA is organising a webinar open to non-members of CTPA (free of charge) on Tuesday 31 January at 13.30 GMT principally to provide introductory information on the process and implications of the UK leaving the European Union from the perspective of the cosmetics industry.

The presentation will cover the following topics:

The Process of Exiting the EU:

- Article 50 of the Lisbon Treaty;
- UK political impact;

Impact on the Cosmetics Industry:

- UK trade in global market and overall assessment;
- Cosmetics Regulation (EC) No 1223/2009;
- other regulations.

Advance booking is essential. Please complete the booking form and return to Julia Hewitt by 30 January.

Places are limited and will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis.
